Are You a Lifetime Resident of Fayette County?

Researchers at the University of Kentucky College of Nursing are conducting a research study to examine differences in cardiovascular disease risk factors among young adults living in various areas of Kentucky.

You may be eligible to participate if you are:

- 18-25 years of age;
- in college;
- healthy;
- a lifetime resident of Fayette County;
- not pregnant;
- interested in contributing to knowledge that may help prevent cardiovascular disease

Participants will be asked to:

- Complete a series of questionnaires
- Undergo a brief health examination

Participants completing all study activities will be entered into two cash-lottery drawings.

For more information, please contact:
Demetrius Abshire, Principal Investigator,
demetrius.abshire@uky.edu
859-323-9677

An Equal Opportunity University