

Are You an African American Woman Who Plans to be Pregnant?

Researchers are inviting you to participate in an online research study for African American women who have had current or past pregnancies, or for women who plan on a pregnancy in the future. Researchers are studying African American women's perceptions of and experiences related to certified midwives.

You may be eligible to participate if you:

- Are over 18 years old
- Identify as an African American woman
- Were or are currently pregnant
- Plan to be pregnant within the next 5 years

Participants will be asked to take a 15 minute online survey/questionnaire. Scan QR code to take the online survey.
